R. J. STRATTON, Supt. of Decatur Gaslight and Coke Co.

R. J. STRATTON, Sup't - Dear Sir: I am using a No. 7 Gas Range, and it is with pleasure that I bear witness to its many good qualities. For utility, cleanliness, comfort and economy, it is all I could desire; anything can be cooked on it that can be cooked on any stove, with, in my opinion, loss expense, and certainly with less trouble and more comfort.

I choorfully recommend it.

Yours Truly.

MISS. HENRY ELWOOD.

Ms. R. J. Stratton, Supt.—Dear Sir: I want to say to you that the gas stove you furnished to me last Summer is much more satisfactory than I had hoped for lean do every kind of cooking with it, and the regularity of the heat gives better results than any other stove. I should not desire to keep house without it.

MRS. FRANK H. HALL.

R. J. STRATTON, Supt.—Dear Sir: I have in use one of your Gas Cooking Ranges in. As a matter of convenience and comfort it is unsurpassed, and is all you claim for it—gas costing about the same as oil or coal. MRS. WM. PLUCK.

"The brush! the brush!" It was the termination of the most ex

Just before daylight a party of cloven all mounted on fleet horses, met at the home of Mr. J. E. Andrews. The fox hounds in the neighborhood had been collected the previous night. There were thirty-four of the finest dogs to be found anywhere.

A faint ray of light could be seen to the east when the party, led by the three veteran hunters of the county, Messrs. J. E. Andrews, John Rountree and Stonewall Hose, started off to the north. The born was tooted thrice, and the dogs ran in front through the woods. For three miles the ride progressed without a sound from the dogs.

Suddenly the leading horseman reined up. The almost distinct yelp of a dog could be heard in the far distance. The dogs around the horsemen stopped and listened. "It's old Kate!" cried Andrews, "and it's a fox, sure. She never lies."

The words had hardly been uttered before the remainder of the pack started off towards the sound at a full run. The horsemen followed, and as the dogs had not jumped the fox, but were only trailing, soon caught up. For twenty min-utes progress was slow, as much of the ground had been burned off and it was difficult for the dogs to trail. However in a short time the track was scented and, with old Kate in the lead, the dogs started through an open field like the wind and every dog yelping at each

The fox had been jumped. The music of the dogs was grand, wild

Through the great open fields, immediately behind the dogs, eleven horsemen ran at a breakneck speed. There was a big ditch in the center, but over it they went like the wind. Both men and horses were excited to the highest pitch. Rountree, on a sleek black mare, was in the load, and the others ran in a bunch close

The dogs seemed to increase their speed. The horses were going at a wild well's office will receive immediate attengait, but the rulers were not satisfied, and urged their flying animals on with

Suddenly a fence was seen in the dis tance. The dogs were scrambling over it. "Hadn't we better rein up?" cried one of the rear horsemen. "Not a bit of it," yelled Andrews, who was now running neek and neek with Rountree.

"Come on!" he cried, and his fleet footed gray and the sleek black of Rountree bounded the seven rail fence as though it was not a feet high. The renainder of the party had drawn rein a little and were somewhat behind, but upon seeing the case with which the leaders cleared the hurdle each put spurs to his horse and away they went. Beven of the horses cleared it without a scratch but two struck the top rail, fell and threw their riders into the freshly plowed ground, which probably saved their necks. But neither horses nor riders were hurt, and although delayed they were mounted again in an instant and renewed the chase with more intense ex-

THE BRAY WON. The horses had run hard, but the fox and dogs were too fleet for them. They were away off in the distance and their yelps were not distinctly heard. The iorseman drew rein and rodo slowly through a clamp of woods to a knoll which they mounted.

Suddenly the yelps of the dogs came more distinct.

"They have turned," shouted Mose. "Yes, and they are coming thus way," eried Andrews

"Keep quiet, boys, and we'll see him." The sun was up and the dogs could be seen coming towards the party. Suddenly the fox, a big gray, with tail erect and tongue hanging far out, passed the foot of the knoll. He was blown, but still running like the wind.

Two hundred yards behind were the dogs. A lag red bound was in the lead, while at his side was old Kate, the striker. Behind them the pack came, forming almost a solid triangle, extending fully twenty yards in the rear of the leaders. But they were running like lightning and gaining on the fox at every Jump.

It was an open field for two miles, and into this, right behind the dogs, the horsemen rushed. Both men and horses were wild with excitement. Every one wanted the brush, and all were running for it. Spurs were pressed against the sides of the already flying horses, and sides of the already flying borses, and the riders leaned forward and yelled to their racers. The eleven horses were running in a bunch, while far behind could be seen two boys, one on a gray mule and the other riding a steer-both without saddles. The field seemed covered with small ditches, but the animals jumped them without apparently noticing the ground,

We were within fifty yards of the dogs and the fox was not ten ahead of the lead dog. But on they went. Suddenly the fox seemed to lag and in an instant thirty-four dogs were piled up on top of him and tearing him to pieces. The horsemen were then a hundred yards behind, and that hundred yards was run for the brush. It was a wild race and eleven horses were thrown on their haunches almost in line right at the dogs, but the rider of the fleet gray was there a nick ahead. He seemed to go right over the head of his horse into the fighting pack of dogs, and in an instant had the body of the fox raised above his head in triumph .- Powersville (Ga.) Cor. Indicted for the Murder of Cronin.

The Unknown Driver Recognized Under Peculiar Circumstances-Another Dr. Cronin alive, as the unknown man who drove away with the murdored man Driver Arrested.

CHICAGO, May 29 .-- The grand jury last evening, after a session of seven hours, indicted Detective Daniel Coughlin, P. O Sullivan, the Lake View ice-dealer, and Frank Bluck, alias Woodruff, for the wilful murder of Dr. P. H. Cronin. Black is the man arrested for steeling the white driven to his death, and who told a woolly story regarding Dr. Cronin having been as be claimed, was afterward hidden in both personal and political friends of the murdered man, were examined, but no evidence was introduced to prove a con vhich so much has been said, wore kept from the jury. As a result of the investigation it was decided by a unanimous vote to include the three prisoners in one them with killing Dr. Cronin with a blunt instrument, the second alleging the use of a sharp instrument, and the third with instruments and means unknown." Judgo Williamson and the jury released

States-Attorney, Longnecker said subsequently that the question of a con-spiracy was not investigated in any form and that the matter would not be taken up again by the present body,

It is said-upon absolute authority that the police are only just beginning to get an lasight into the magnitude of the conspiracy. All along they have been work ew. Within the last-twenty-four hours however, they have come into possession of information that places it beyond the shodow of a doubt that at least a score of individuals were connected, directly or indirectly, with the diabolical affair. Among those, it is said, are eight of the most prominent Irish Nationalists in the city. These are being shadowed day and light, not so much with the view of any immediate arrest, but, as the police put it. "The better to subserve the interest widely-known of the eight is Alexander Bullivan, the ex-president of the Irish hand Longue of America. He is probably the best-watched man in Chicago to-day. Shadows infest the lobby of the Chicago Opera-house building, in which his offices are located; they fit around the apper corridor; they dog his footsteps whom he goes across to the court house under surveillance. Only when closetein his office, or when in the parter of hi home, is he free from their gaze. Chief of Police Hubbard practically ble for this espionage, but he doclined t say upon what grounds it was based, al-though he hinted that it was done to sutisfy Cronin's friends. Almost in the same breath he said that of all the stroam of direct ovidence that had been poured in upon him, there was not a single fac that pointed in the slightest degree to Alexander Sullivan's culpability. The friends of the latter—and their number is logion-take the ground that he is boin most outrageously persocuted. He is, they say, being made a mark of by men who have been opposed to him for year lu secret societies, and who are now only oo willing to take advantage of the present excitement to identify him with the The Heraid to-day, in an elaborate ar ticle, relterates its former statement the Dr. Cronin was "removed" by the Clan na-Gaol after trial and conviction, on the charge of being a British spy. It de clares circumstantially that an officer o the order known as a delegate called camp to appoint a committee. No name not specifications were given. At the mineral bave but just begun to produce, and I next inecting of the camp, it was an nounced, under the rules provided for such occasions, that a trial committee was required. Each man present wrote a name on a piece of paper. Whon all the slips had been deposited in the ballot wa it was delivered to a trusty mombo who counted them and salected the sove that received the highest number. Encl was quietly notified of the fact, while the unsuccessful ones simply received blank slips. The committee mot within a week and for the first time became awars of each other's identity, and also that of the man whom they were to try and the charges preferred. Hence, of all the members of the order only the commitlee, the man preferring the charges, and the witnesses examined, were cognizant of the personality of the body or its pro-ceedings. Charges were preferred against Cronin of boing a British spy; he number of postmasters removed by Mr. Chrkson. We suppose he is not turning out Republicans. And if he is removing Democrats, pray how did such a prodigition number of the maget in? Mr. Cloveland was in office only four years. His was a civil service of form administration. was found guilty by a unanimous vote and sentenced to be "removed." In some way the key viedge of these proceedings came to Cronin, and hence his frequent statements just before he met his death that a violent oud was in met his death that a violent end was in store for him. The article also says that the only object of the presence in Chi-cago of Luke Dillon, of Philadelphia, who is one of the triumvirate new ruling the order, is to learn the number of the camp by which the committee was appointed.

The coronor's jury yesterday visited the cottage and the man-hole in which the corpse was found, and upon returning to the city adjourned until this marning. A widow named Hamburgor has turned over to the police a suit of flannel under-clothing and a vest, which were found by her two boys, aged nine and cloven years, in a clump of brushes on the Evansten road, not far from the spot where the trunk was discovered. The officers are mysterious regarding the find, and refuse to say whother the articles have been identified as having been worn by the Remarkable Statement of Private De-totive Bruce.

Chicago, May 29.—Detective Robert Bruce, who has been conducting a pri-rate agency in this city, walked into Lieutenant Horaco Elliott's office yesterday and said that several months ago Alder-man McCormick offered him eleven hundied dollars to kill Dr. Cronin Bruce, who has just returned from three months' stay in Texas, says that McCormick paid him a hundred dollars

Supervisor's Term Extended. Yesterday, at the closing session of the egislature, the bill to make the time for which supervisors are to serve two years instead of one, as at present, was passed and will go into effect on July 1. It is understood that this is the bill that also provided for the election of half of the county boards each year, the object being to prevent at any one time there ing an undue number of new and inexperienced members of the board.

Peculiar Circumstances-Another

CHICAGO, May 29.—The grand jury last evening, after a session of seven hours indicted Detective Daniel Coughlin, P. O Sullivan, the Lake Vlew ice-dealer, and Frank Black, alias Woodraff, for the wilful murder of Dr. P. H. Cronin. Black is the man arrested for stealing the white horse and rig in which the physician was story regarding Dr. Cronin having been taken to attend the woman, whose body as he claimed, was afterward hidden in the trank. Over a score of witnesses, including both personal and political friends of the murdered man, were examined, but no evidence was introduced to prove a conspiracy, and the private papers, about which so much has been said, were kept from the jury. As a result of the investigation it was decided by a unanimous vote to include the three prisoners in one indictment of three counts, one charging them with killing Dr. Cronin with a blunt instrument, the second alleging the use of a sharp instrument, and the third with instruments and means unknown. The indictments were returned t Williamson and the jury release for the night. States - Attorney Longnecker said sub-sequently that the question of a conspiracy was not investigated in any form up again by the present body. It is said-upon absolute authority that the police are only just beginning to get an insight into the magnitude of the con piracy. All along they have been work ing on the theory that it was confined to: lew. Within the last twenty-four hours owever, they have come into pessession of information that places it beyond the hodow of a doubt that at least a score of ndividuals were connected, directly or indirectly, with the diabolical affair. Among these, it is said, are eight of the must prominent Irish Nationalish in the These are being shadowed day and night, not so much with the view of any immediate arrest, but, as the police putit, "The better to subserve the interest of justice." Among the best and mos Bullivan, the ex-president of the Irish Land League of America. He is prob-ubly the best-watched man in Chicago to-day. Only when closete in his office, or whom in the parter of hi home, is he free from their gaze. Chief of Police Hubbard practicall admitted last night that he was responsi ble for this espionage, but he doclined to say upon what grounds it was based, although he hinted that it was done to sat same breath he said that of all the stroam of direct evidence that had been poured a upon him, there was not a single fac that pointed in the slightest degree to Alexander Sullivan's culpability. The friends of the latter—and their number is logion—take the ground that he is boin most outrageously persocuted. He is, they say, being made a mark of by men who have been opposed to him for years lu secret societies, and who are now only too willing to take advantage of the pres ent excitement to identify him with the erime in the public mind. The Heraid to-day, in an elaborate ar ticle, relterates its formor statement tha Dr. Cronin was "framoved" by the Clan charge of being a British spy, it de clares circumstantially that an officer of upon the senior gnardian of a North-side camp to appoint a committee. No names not specifications were given. At the next meeting of the camp, it was an-nounced, under the rules provided for such occasions, that a trial committee was required. Much man present wrote a name on a piece of paper. When all the name on a piece of paper. Whon all the stips had been deposited in the ballet box it was delivered to a trusty member who counted the m and selected the seve that received the highest number. Each was quietly notified of the fact, while the unsuccessful ones simply received blank slips. The committee met within a week and for the first time became aware of each other's identity, and also that of the man whom they were to try and the charges preferred. Hence, of all the members of the order only the commit-too, the man preferring the charges, and the witnesses examined, were cognizan of the personality of the body or its procoodings. Charges were preferred against Cronin of being a British spy; h was found guilty by a unanimous vote and sentenced to be "removed." In some way the ke viedge of these proceedings came to Creatin, and hence his frequent statements just before he met his death that a violent end was in store for him. The article also says that the only object of the presence in Chicago of Luke Dillon, of Philadelphia, wis is one of the triumvirate now ruling the order, is to learn the number of the camp by which the committee was appointed.

THE BISHOP AUTOPSY. The Coroner's Jury Still Inquiring Into the Case,

NEW YORK, May 29 .- The inquest in the case of Hishop was resumed yesterday. Dr. Jenkins testified that he found a portion of the brain in the body. It had been moved—for microscopic examination, he supposed. Other pertions of the body wore displaced. The general appearance of the organs was good. In reply to the question: "If the man formed, would that operation have killed him" the witness smiled and said: "Probably it would," The witness further stated that they generally performed an autopsy twelve hours after death, Dr. H. M. Briggs was the next witness, His testimony was mainly corr dorative of that of Deputy Coroner Jenkins. He discovered in the kidney traces of Bright's disease; the fiver was also af-fected. An adjournment was then taken,

THE genial Conductor G. W. Jenkins of Wabash trains 41 and 46, running be ween Decatur and Danville, is a study o his many friends since his return from the excursion trip west with the conducore' party. Jenkins seems to have seen dmost impossible things on his journey, indging from the stories of adventure and conquests be relates with a smile to ho credutous. Ho carries a willowy cano which he selemnly avers he cut from the grave of Brigham Young. He also tells of his murvelous feat on Pike's Poak. visited by the party. The ascent is particularly perilons in May, and no tourist had the nervo to climb to the top, but conductor Jonkins was not to be frightoned. He bravely started out alone, and when he came back unfely his face glowed with victory as he related his experience with bears and birds of proy, at the same time paralyzing the party with the declaration that while at the top of the lofty Penk he gathered blooming flowers on one side and ato snow on the other. Unfortnnotely he had lost the flowers on the way back and the enow had molted in his

The Drama.

An ugly rain storm prevailed last even ing during the appearance of the Fred erick Wards dramatic company at the opera house, and yet there was a large audienco present to witness the romantic five-act drams, "The Mountebank, with Mr. Wurde as Belphegor and Miss Belgasdo as Madeline. We have seen and admired Mr. Warde in heavy tragedy roles, but last night he appeared at his best, displaying his wonderful versatility as an emotional and heroic actor, combin ing all of the finer arts of the comedian. His work in the third and fourth acts was especially good, winning for him enthusinstic curtain calls. The plot of the play was intensely interesting, at times quite thrilling, and as a whole "The Mountebank" was one of the best per formances it has been the good fortune "of Decatur people to witness. Mr. Warde's support throughout was perfection and the costuming superb. Mans ger Haines should have the play repeated in the new Grand Opera House next season. It would fill the house with Mr. Warde as Belphegor,
